

Research Associate
Conglomerates, Oil & Gas and Tech sectors
Singapore Equity Research
Citi Global Markets

Job Description

The Research Associate will support the Citi Singapore Equity Research team in producing strategy and company research reports for institutional clients, in particular, the Conglomerates, Oil & Gas and Tech sectors. The Research Associate will play an integral role in all aspects of primary research work, ranging from company and industry specific reports to valuation models.

Job Requirements

The candidate should have strong analytical, writing, and financial analysis skills. The candidate should be self-motivated and able to multi-task and handle tight schedules. The candidate should be a team player. Candidate should have some academic qualification in accounting, finance, business or economics. One or 2 years working experience is a plus, but fresh graduates will also be considered.